Landslides Not Regarded as Serious Menace to Panama-Pacific Exposition Disposition.

Three officers of the United States army estified before the House Committee on for a hostile fleet to destroy the works on either end of the waterway. Testiony to this effect was given by Col. Goethals, the builder of the canal: Gen. Weaver, chief of the Coast Artillery, and Gen. Crozier, chief or ordnance.

It was brought out that the govern-ment has spent $12,050,000 in the fortications and that $2,000,000 more will be expended in the fiscal year that will be begun July I. While the hearing of Col. Goethals and Gens. some ground for the mutterings of complaint that have come from music lovers in Washington against a too frequent repetition of certain symhonies, to the exclusion of other great works, not so often heard. A second presentation of two symphonies of Brahms, and No. 8 of Beethoven, have fall. occurred here this winter.

0.65 nothing of a more or less frequent hearoccurred here this winter. This, to say ing of the Eighth of Beethoven in Wash-ington during the last two or three seasons, justifies a mild protest on the part of those who wish to hear many of e.68 the great symphonic works.

From the critic's point of view, as from that of the student, there is an indisputable interest and benefit to be derived from the comparison of the readings of a big orchestral work by two great conductors. Those whom this defense will not satisfy must comfort themselves with the reflection that the Boston Symphony Orchestra lends to whatever it performs a distinction that, in a sense, makes ev'n its repetitions new works. Then ther was on the program of the Boston Symphony Orchestra yesterday at the New National Theater the Schumann over-ture to "Genoveva," and the Brahms variations on the Haydn theme, to make up. A SAMPLE OF HERALD WAR "MOVIES"

Here the spectator of these wonderful motion pictures of the war of the nations is lined up with the Belgians at the outskirts of one of their villages. They are in the middle of the road—bundles of brush have been hastly strewn cross the thoroughfare and more bundles piled on tables in order to effectively conceal the Belgian troops. These men are awaiting the approach of a body of Uhlans. When these famous German troopers put in an appearance Gen. Sherman's famous expression concerning war will appear mild words, indeed. Pictures like this—pictures with action—that The Washington Herald, in co-operation with Hearst-Selig, has arranged to show to the people of Washington, this week at the Colonial Theater, in Pennsylvania avenue.
